11 people + 3 dogs. The boat caps at 12 — one seat left. Anyone else and you are over.

Where everyone is coming from

Origin	Who	Leave by
Oakland (advance team)	Colin, Nicole, Genz, Dave H. + all three dogs	8:00 AM — arrives 10:30
Oakland	Charlie, Casper, Joji	8:15 AM — arrives 10:45
Richmond	Christina	8:45 AM
Presidio, SF	Carly, Dave L. , Beck	8:20 AM — sandwich run

Times include the slow final 12.7 miles from US-101 — see Route & Timing for the full breakdown.

Cell service is unreliable on the last stretch. Once cars turn off US-101 onto Dry Creek Road there are roughly 12 miles of rural canyon before the marina, and coverage there is spotty at best. Lock the plan before anyone makes that turn — who is where, what the meeting spot is, and what happens if a car is late. Do not count on texts landing.

There are two Daves. In the group text, use Dave L. and Dave H. — Dave H. rides with the advance team and has the drinks; Dave L. rides with Carly and Beck on the sandwich run.

Beck (11) and Casper (10) have to wear their jackets underway. The marina supplies them, so this is not a packing problem — but California law requires every child under 13 to wear a life jacket any time the vessel is moving, on a boat of any length. The requirement lifts once you are anchored and stationary in a cove. Worth telling them once at the dock so it isn't a negotiation every time the engine starts.

Whoever operates the boat must be 21 or older, so both kids ride as passengers.

Day-of contacts

Lake Sonoma Marina: (707) 433-2200 — save this in case anyone's running late or the group splits into two cars for the drive up.

The plan in one line

Advance team at the marina by 10:30, everyone else at 10:45 sharp, cast off at 11:00, lunch and a swim in a quiet cove, back at the dock by 3:00, and then a decision about San Francisco.
