Sixteen places to eat, lake to city

A menu, not a schedule. Nothing is booked. Tags mark the ones worth going out of your way for; everything here has been checked as currently open.

Read this before you plan a group dinner. Diavola does not take weekend reservations at all — for any party size. Ten people walking in on a Saturday afternoon will wait a long time. Catelli's, two doors down, seats groups and takes bookings. If Diavola matters to you, call (707) 814-0111 that morning and ask what a walk-in for ten actually looks like.

Carly's pick — worth knowing the trade-off

The Altamont General Store THE DETOUR

3703 Main St, Occidental, CA 95465

Café Sat 9 AM–7:30 PM · The Yard 4–7:30 PM · (707) 874-6053

Farm-fresh comfort food with real vegan and gluten-free range — bowls, sandwiches, salads, house baked goods, natural wine and beer. The Yard, their outdoor space, opens at 4 PM, which lands almost exactly when you would arrive off a 3 PM dock.

Apple Maps · Google Maps

How far is it, really. Occidental is about 40 miles and an hour from the marina, and it is west of the 101 corridor — down Dry Creek Road, then out through Sebastopol on 116. It is not on the way to anywhere you are going.

Which makes it a clean either/or. If the art party is off and the Presidio car wants the west-county drive as the actual point of the afternoon, this is a genuinely lovely way to end the day and the 4 PM Yard opening times perfectly. If the art party is on, this kills it outright — you would not reach Lawton Street before 7. And for the Oakland cars it is the wrong direction twice over.

South on 101

Daily 9 AM–8 PM, closed Tuesdays · (707) 894-5616

Slow-smoked ribs, brisket and pulled pork with a huge patio and a proper old roadside feel. North of the lake turnoff, so a detour home — but on the nose if anyone comes down through Cloverdale.

(707) 687-5185

Two Healdsburg changes worth knowing. Quail & Condor, the destination bakery from SingleThread alumni, moved to 44 Mill St in November 2025 — the old Healdsburg Avenue address in most guides is dead. And SingleThread (131 North St) holds three Michelin stars with reservations months out; listed only so you know it exists.
